BUSINESS RELATED INTERESTS

Networking Events: Provide insight into the finance industry allowing me to connect with like-minded individuals. It is a good opportunity to discuss & learn from employees from top firms such as Goldman Sachs, JP Morgan, Accenture and EY. Recent events have included BNP Paribas Summer Event and BRIGHT NETWORK – Women in Leadership.

Societies: I am currently a part of the Accounting & Business Society, as well as the Finance & Investment Society which provides a deeper insight into my course and the industry, enhancing my commercial awareness.

Business: I have recently set up an events company which holds parties for university students as I spotted a gap in the market of urban events in Loughborough, demonstrating my entrepreneurial mindset. I have been able to communicate, network and relate to a range of individuals from different social backgrounds. Furthermore, my problem-solving skills have enhanced through analysing, assessing and responding efficiently to unexpected situations such as competitors' events clashing with mine in the midlands.

News: I consistently keep up to date with current affairs through a variety of news sources such as The Financial Times and CNBC.

HOBBIES

Traveling: I have visited countries such as France, Germany and Spain as I am interested in exploring different cultures. Travelling has enhanced my global mindset, helping me to see things from different perspectives.

Singing: I recently performed in a society event called Origin to a crowd of 264 people and I am also part of a church choir. As a result of lead roles and performing, I have become a confident leader that is able to maintain composure and focus under pressure.

Sport: I have participated in athletic competitions up to regional level alongside participating in a variety of sport including football, basketball and dodgeball. My determination and drive have allowed me to win in multiple competitions. Team sports such as relay races allowed my conflict management, critical thinking and collaboration to improve by using the strengths and weaknesses of my team to win.
